

CCW Breakaways launched a paradigm-shifting concealed carry pant with built-in, disguised holster-pockets and enlargeable "breakaway" openings. Four patents are pending on the product and the process. The method-of-carry and the method for deployment are tradition-breaking. In Force-On-Force Tueller drills, "Breakaways" users repeatedly neutralize their adversaries with 10' to spare instead of using the usual 21'.

"Breakaways" Pants with built-in holster-pockets enable:

a faster withdrawal

- one handed draw; not two
- full gun grip in concealment
- not a race w/ adversary for "who gets their weapon into play first"

a deeper concealment

- normal-looking clothing - covert w/o tactical operator appearance

a more comfortable carry

- below hip line-of-flexure
- no gun pinch at waist
- functionality and agility in any position

The "old rules" for arms' length self-defense are obsolete. CCW Breakaways created a new era tactical proficiency.
